Santa Fe Springs, CA –December 9, 2015 - Superior Press announced today the election of Senior Account Executive Greg Kunath to the Escrow Institute of California's (EIC) 2016 Board of Directors. In this role Kunath, will serve a two year term as affiliate, co-chair and affiliate chair growing affiliate memberships along with co-chairing the EIC Annual Charity Golf Tournament. Since joining Superior Press in 2013, Kunath has worked closely with the company's escrow and real estate clients to provide customized banking supply solutions to meet the escrow industry's unique security requirements, specific escrow software formats, and its professional design and branding needs.

Kunath's election follows a successful term as co-chair of the First Annual EIC Charity Golf Tournament this past year. The event, which netted more than $6,000 for the American Brain Tumor Association, will be held again on June 9, 2016 as part of the EIC Annual Conference June 10-12, 2016 in Carlsbad, California.

Senior Account Executive-
Greg Kunath

Citizens Business Bank and the Specialty Bank Team, say, "Greg's level of integrity and passion for the escrow/title industry along with his desire to 'give back' will be a great help to the EIC board."

"What a privilege and an honor to be part of such a superior team of individuals at the Escrow Institute of California," said Kunath. He continued, "I look forward to working closely with this board, contributing to the growth and success of the EIC."

Steve Traut, Senior Vice President of Superior Press said, "Greg's commitment to his clients is evident in this election to the EIC Board of Directors. We are looking forward to supporting his efforts in this new role, and are thrilled that it came by the support and affirmation of his peers and clients."
